DETAILED ACTION

1. The preliminary amendment filed April 26, 2000 could not be entered because it requested that in claim 12, line 3, the phrase "any of claims 1 to 11" be changed to -- claim 1 --. However, claim 12 does not contain this phrase.

Election/Restrictions

2. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

A) main fermentation emissions selected from methanol, ethanol, ethyl acetate, and mixtures thereof (must specify specific mixture);

B) lesser fermentation emissions selected from isobutyl acetate, acetoin, phenol, guaiacol, menthol, 2-phenylethanol, and mixtures thereof (must specify specific mixture); and

C) plant sources for fermented vegetal matter selected from palm tree, sugar cane, and banana.

3. Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a specific species from each A, B, and C to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

4. An example of a proper election is as follows:

Species A): methanol; species B): menthol, and species C): sugar cane.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Species A: selected from components in claim 2;

Species B: selected from components in claim 8; and

Species C: selected from components in claim 15.

The following claim(s) are generic: claims 1-9 and 13-15.

5. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Giblin-Davis et al. (Journal of Chemical Ecology (1996), vol. 22, no. 8, pp.1389-1409) anticipates species encompassed by the claimed invention. Specifically this reference teaches a composition comprising ethyl acetate and fermented sugar cane (see page 1394, third paragraph). This reference would anticipate one claimed embodiment, but would not anticipate other claimed embodiments; therefore, the invention lacks unity.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Art Unit: 1651

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
